CENTRAL POWERS GAIN IN DOBRUDJA

Rumanians and Russians Are Unable to Withstand Continued Violent Attacks

GERMANIC ALLIES PURSUING DEFEATED ARMIES

Offensive Has Been Taken by the Combined Austrian, German, Bulgarian and Turkish Forces—Conflicting Reports Are Made of the Hard Fighting on the Transylvania Front—Violent Attacks of Germans Against Newly Won Positions of French in the Chaulness Wood Were Repulsed—Heavy Rainstorms and Snowfall Are Impeding Operations in the Austro-Italian Theatre.

In the face of continued violent attacks by the Teutonic allies in Dobrudja, from the Danube to the Black sea, the Rumanians and their Russian allies are still falling back. The towns of Topral Sari, fourteen miles southwest of Constantza, and Cobadin, 17 miles southeast of the Danube town of Rachova, have been taken by the combined Austrian, German, Bulgarian and Turkish forces, who are declared by Berlin to be in pursuit of their defeated antagonists. On the Transylvania front hard fighting continues in the mountain passes, but with the result in doubt owing to the conflicting statements of the Berlin, Petrograd and Bucharest war offices. Petrograd says the Rumanians have been forced back in the Buzeu valley. Bucharest, however, does not concede this, asserting that counter-attacks by the Teutonic allies here were repulsed at the point of the bayonet. It is evident from the official statements, despite their discrepancies as to results, that no great changes in position have taken place anywhere along this front, but that the Rumanians are fighting tenaciously to hold back the would-be invaders of their country.

The battle of the past week along the Narayuvka river in Galicia has resulted in an important victory for the Austro-German forces over the Russians, according to Berlin. Here the Russians now hold only a small part of the front on the west bank of the river, following a general attack by the Teutonic allies between Svitlenik and Skomovochy, in which the Russians

HUGHES HAS NO AGREEMENT WITH O'LEARY'S ORGANIZATION
He Denies Charge Made by Democratic National Committee.

New York, Oct. 22.—Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for president, denied tonight the charge of the democratic national committee that he had entered into a secret agreement with the American Independent Conference in which Jeremiah A. O'Leary is said to be the central figure. His denial was in reply to a statement issued from democratic headquarters in this city containing what purported to be a report made by Mr. O'Leary at a session of the conference in Chicago of what occurred at a meeting between Mr. Hughes and a committee from the American Independent Conference in which Mr. O'Leary was quoted as having said: "Mr. Hughes promised that his future conduct in the speech-making line should be entirely satisfactory to the interests of the committee."

The democratic statement charged that O'Leary and his associates were delegated to meet Mr. Hughes and ascertain his attitude with reference to "Mr. Roosevelt's pro-British and anti-American utterances in particular and his (Mr. Hughes's) policies in general."

The republican reply was issued at Montclair at midnight after a three-hour conference between National Chairman W. R. Wilcox and Mr. Hughes. The former called early in the evening, took dinner with the latter and then returned to his home.

"Chairman Wilcox said this evening that the matter referred to had been brought to the attention of Mr. Hughes by a telephone call and that Mr. Hughes replied:

"I saw the persons mentioned at that request about the middle of September. Just as I have seen all persons and delegations as far as possible who have asked me to receive them."

"I have said nothing in private that I have not said in public. At the very beginning, in my speech of acceptance, I declared my position in favor of the absolute protection of American lives, American property and American commerce. I reiterated to these persons and I have stated it to all others who have asked me to receive them."

"To this maintenance of all American rights, I have adhered until now and I have declared my intention to adhere to it over and over again that I have made no private agreements and have engaged in no intrigues and I repeat that statement."

HIGH COST OF EDUCATION IS BOTHERING NEW YORK
$454.16 for Each Student in the College of the City of New York.

New York, Oct. 22.—High cost of education is a problem which confronted the city of New York today according to a statement issued tonight by the bureau of city inquiry. Although each student in the College of the City of New York last year received instruction at a cost of $454.16, more than twice as much the per capita tuition cost in institutions like Yale, Harvard and Princeton, an additional appropriation which will increase the cost to more than $500 for each student is asked for next year.

Total appropriations for the College of the City of New York, where the average registration is 1,800, amounted to $700,000. The amount requested for next year is $1,000,000. The bureau of city inquiry points out that were the city to abandon the city colleges and pay the regulation tuition fee of $200 per student, the city would save $400,000 a year.

21 Men Perish in Lake Erie

STEAMSHIP JAMES B. COLGATE FOUNDERED FRIDAY NIGHT ONLY ONE SURVIVOR

Nineteen of Crew Were Sucked Down With the Big Boat—Two Others Were Washed Off Raft and Drowned—A Series of Disasters Reported.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 22.—News that the steamship James B. Colgate had foundered in Lake Erie Friday night and that the crew of 21 men had perished was brought here today by Captain Walter Grashaw, the sole survivor, who was rescued after being adrift on a raft for 34 1/2 hours.

The vessel, owned by the Long Point, Canada, opposite Erie, Captain Grashaw was landed at Conneaut, Ohio, half dead from exposure to the fury of the storm.

Nineteen of the crew were sucked down to death when the big steel boat foundered and two others on the raft with the captain were washed off and drowned.

Series of Disasters.
The Colgate sank the night of what has been termed "Black Friday" in marine circles. Six men were lost when the steamer Elmer sank in Lake Erie on Friday, only Cape Mattison being saved. Earlier that night the steamer Marshall P. Butters foundered but the crew of thirteen men were saved.

Less than an hour after the Elmer sank, the Colgate, largest of the three vessels, went down with a loss of her crew has raised "Black Friday's" casualty list on Lake Erie to 27.

At first Captain Grashaw was unable to tell the names of his two companions on the raft. When he recovered a little he said they were Second Engineer Harry Osman and the coal passer whose name he did not know and who had shipped at Buffalo, N. Y., just before the Colgate left there Friday morning on its way to Fort William, Canada, with coal.

Captain Grashaw's Story.
Captain Grashaw's story follows: "We were passing Long Point about 4 or 7 o'clock Friday night when the ship sprang a leak forward. All hands were at work to stop the water. I did not know and who had shipped at Buffalo, N. Y., just before the Colgate left there Friday morning on its way to Fort William, Canada, with coal."

"Every man worked for his life then, but it was no use. The water came in so fast that the ship was unable to hold. The water came in so fast that the ship was unable to hold. The water came in so fast that the ship was unable to hold."

"When the ship sank everybody jumped into the water. I grabbed it and pulled myself on it just as Second Engineer Harry Osman and the coal passer reached me. What happened to the others I don't know. I never saw them again. They must have been sucked right down with the ship."

Awful Fight for Life.
"Then our awful fight began—something I'll never forget. Twice the ship came completely over and we were washed overboard. I must have been unconscious half the time for now I can't remember distinguishing night from day while the storm went on and our raft plunged with us, never once in sight of a ship that might rescue us until this morning."

"The coal passer was washed away. Then hours later Osman, totally exhausted, was swept to his death. How I managed to keep on the raft I do not know. Time and again it turned over with me. Each time I had to fight my way on top again."

NEW HAVEN TROOPS HOME FROM BORDER.
Troop A and First Hospital Corps Given a Rousing Welcome.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22.—With the cheers of thousands of persons ringing in their ears, the first contingent of New Haven troops—Troop A and the First Connecticut Field Hospital Corps—arrived here late today from the Mexican border.

Long before the arrival of the troop trains at the brewery street yards the sidewalks were congested with people. The trains were at hour behind schedule time and there was a further delay before the troops were ready to parade.

The following cheer was given by the troops: "A heavy marching order, tramped through the streets. The cavalrymen followed at a canter. The faces of the soldiers—bronzed by the sun and wind—were wreathed in broad smiles and that they were glad to be on native soil again was more than evident."

The Second regiment is expected back in the early part of the week and it is planned to hold a big parade and celebration. The city has appropriated funds for the entertainment.

HEAVY DRAFTS ON U. S. SHIP BUILDING RESOURCES
Being Made by Norway and Other Scandinavian Countries.

New York, Oct. 22.—Norway and other Scandinavian countries will continue to make heavy drafts on the ship building and manufacturing resources of the United States while the year lasts and for at least a year after it ends, according to Trygve Barth of Christiania, Norway, one of four representatives of leading business and commercial interests of Norway, who arrived here today on the steamship Bergensfjord from Christiania.

Those accompanying Barth were Knut Bekke, Sophus E. Dahl and Gustav K. Heger. They are to remain here for some time investigating the ship building and financial subjects of interest to Norway.

According to Mr. Barth, Norway has placed orders with American ship builders for more than 1,000,000 tons of new ships since the war began. Many of these ships are ready for delivery. They will be used, to a large extent, at least in carrying Norway's trade with the United States.

Also on the Bergensfjord were seven steamship captains sent here by the Norwegian government to take out ships as soon as they are ready.

NOT ALL RAILROAD MEN TO VOTE FOR WILSON
Many Refuse to be Swayed by Brotherhood Officers.

New York, Oct. 22.—Members of the vast railroad brotherhoods in many states are resenting the efforts of their national officers to deliver their votes to President William Taft because of his support of the Adamson law. That was the statement made today by Arthur D. Burbank, chairman of the legislative board of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Illinois. Mr. Burbank, whose duties require him to visit various lodges of his organization, declared that there was a decided trend towards Hughes among railroad men and that it daily is growing stronger, as the men have opportunity to study and discuss the so-called eight hour law.

Atrocious Murder in Bridgeport

BODY OF MICHAEL YORKO HORRIBLY MUTILATED HEAD NEARLY SEVERED

Wooden Leg and All His Clothing Found in a Lot 175 Feet Away From the Lot in Which the Body Was Found.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 22.—Michael Yorko, a one-legged man, was found dead and horribly mutilated early today behind a billboard at Railroad and South Avenues. He had been dismembered, his head was nearly severed from the body apparently with a sharp knife and the back was cut to the bone, the gash extending down and toward the abdomen. Only a very small pool of blood was found under the body and there was almost no blood on the corpse.

His wooden leg and all his clothing were found 175 feet away, in another lot.

Believes Slayer Was Insane.
Medical Examiner S. M. Garlick said there was not enough blood at the spot to account for Yorko's death there and that there was nothing found of the body except the head. The medical examiner said also that from such information as he had been able to obtain today he believed that Yorko's slayer was insane.

Money Missing.
The last account of Yorko was at 11:30 o'clock on Saturday night when he left a saloon near where he was later found dead. At that time he showed some change. None of this money was found in his clothing today.

The clothing was not cut, indicating to the police that the slaying was done at the Yorko's residence. He was voluntarily or under threats they are unable to determine. Various theories are advanced to account for the mysterious circumstances. A formal medical examiner's belief that an insane person did the deadly work is generally accepted by the police, who have been unable so far to find the slightest real clue on which to work.
